A Young Man Slips on a Roof and Crashe Through a Skylight.

DANVILLE, VA., Jan. 3.—Special.—Druy H. Reynolds, a young man twenty-eight years of age, and agent for the Fidelity Mutual Life Insurance Company, of Philadelphia, met his death here to-day in a trasio manner.

He went to his office in an upper room in the Rice Boilding, to get some papers, and not having a key to the door, went out on the roof to reach a window hear a sky-light, the white waiting around the sky-light he slipped on the ice that had accumulated on the edge and full upon the glass and fell fifteen feet to the floor of Rice's confectionery slore. Falling head foremost he struck the floor with great force and his neck was broken. Death was almost instantaneous.

Mr. Reynolds was a hattive of this courgeaged in the insurance business, with headquarters in Suffolk and a branch office here.

FOR PENSION FUNDS.

"Let each county and elty have a pen-sion fund to care for aid and help to support the needy, old reterans. It so, the veteran can remain at his home with his family and frience, and spend his last days with them. The money collected from the tax-payers will all be expended in the county and city, where collected. "The levy is not compulsory, it is in the discretion of the Board of Supervisors and of the Council, and if the secole risk the TO EXAMINE APPLICATIONS.

"In those counties and cities, where camps will examine all applications for aid and report to the court all the facts. I believe and hope the Legislature will give $40,000 annually to the Home, and continue pensions.

"Again we have many poor veterans who can make out to live at home, if they receive some assistance, while there are many who should go to the Home; the former let the counties and cities assist, the latter be supported at the Home. I believe the tax-payers—the old se dict and sons of old soldlers—will gladly ow sent to have the county levy increase to help and assist their old comrades of their fathers' comrades. Pass the bill and I do not believe there is a county or city which would not have such a levy mude."

NO DEALING IN FUTURES. Mr. Ara D. Watkins, of Prince Edward, introduced a bill to prohibit the buying and selling of futures, or otherwise deal-ing in what is known as futures, by delaring such transactions gambling.

The measure provides "that it shall be unlawful to buy or sell or otherwise deal in what is known as futures, either in cotton, grain, or anything whatever where such buying, selling or otherwise dealing is had for the purpose of gaining the difference between the rise and fail of the prices of such articles; and all such transactions are hereby declared to be gambling.
